

Back home you say hello.
Here, nobody does.

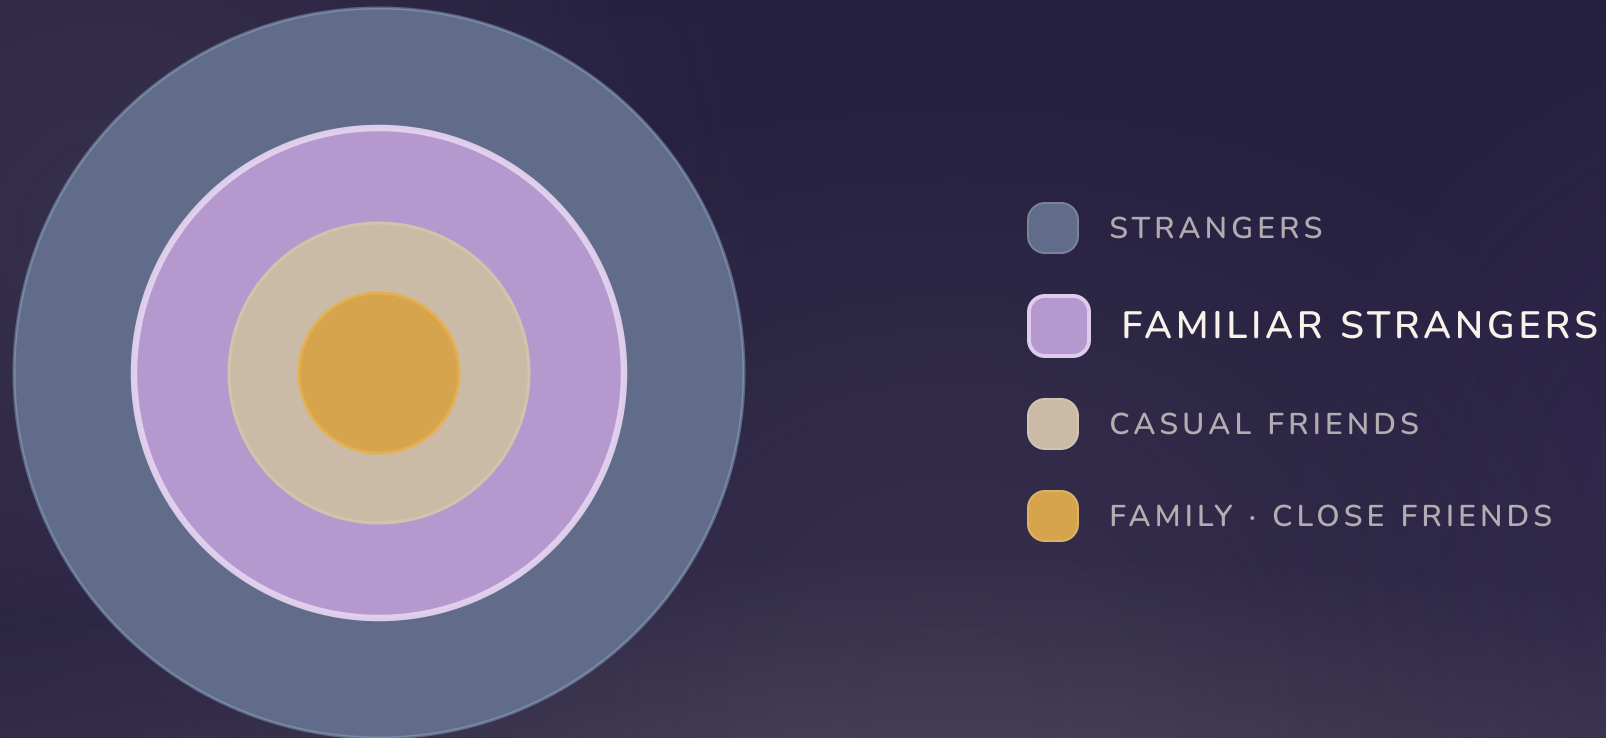

SIMPLY PUT

The UX of talking to a stranger sucks.

And the numbers agree.

Your “weak” ties do the heavy lifting.

Sandstrom & Dunn (2014), "Social Interactions and Well-Being: The Surprising Power of Weak Ties" · Böger & Huxhold (2020), "The Strength of Weaker Ties"

AND THEN, PHONES

And smartphones are making it worse.

1 in 4

PEOPLE

Billions

LOST PER YEAR

Paulos & Goodman (2004), "The Familiar Stranger: Anxiety, Comfort, and Play in Public Places" (CHI 2004)

So many social apps. None of them fill the void.

STRANGERS

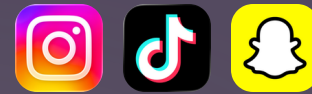

Anonymous feeds

FAMILIAR
STRANGERS

?

CASUAL
FRIENDS

Social feeds

CLOSE TIES

Messaging

Matching apps

So we made one. Min fills the void.

STRANGERS

Anonymous feeds

FAMILIAR STRANGERS

Min

CASUAL
FRIENDS

Social feeds

CLOSE TIES

Messaging

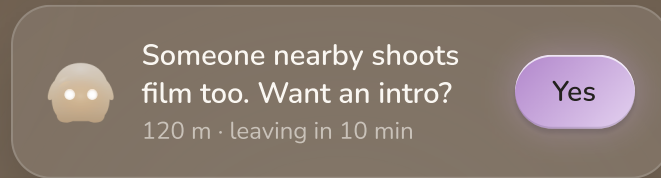

Matching apps

So simple, and yet
nobody has built it.

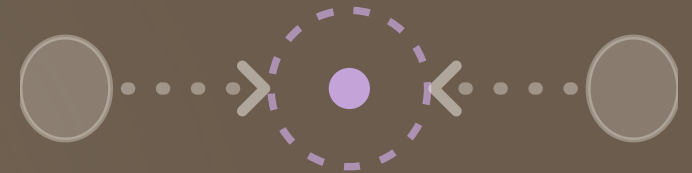

Talk to Min

Min introduces you

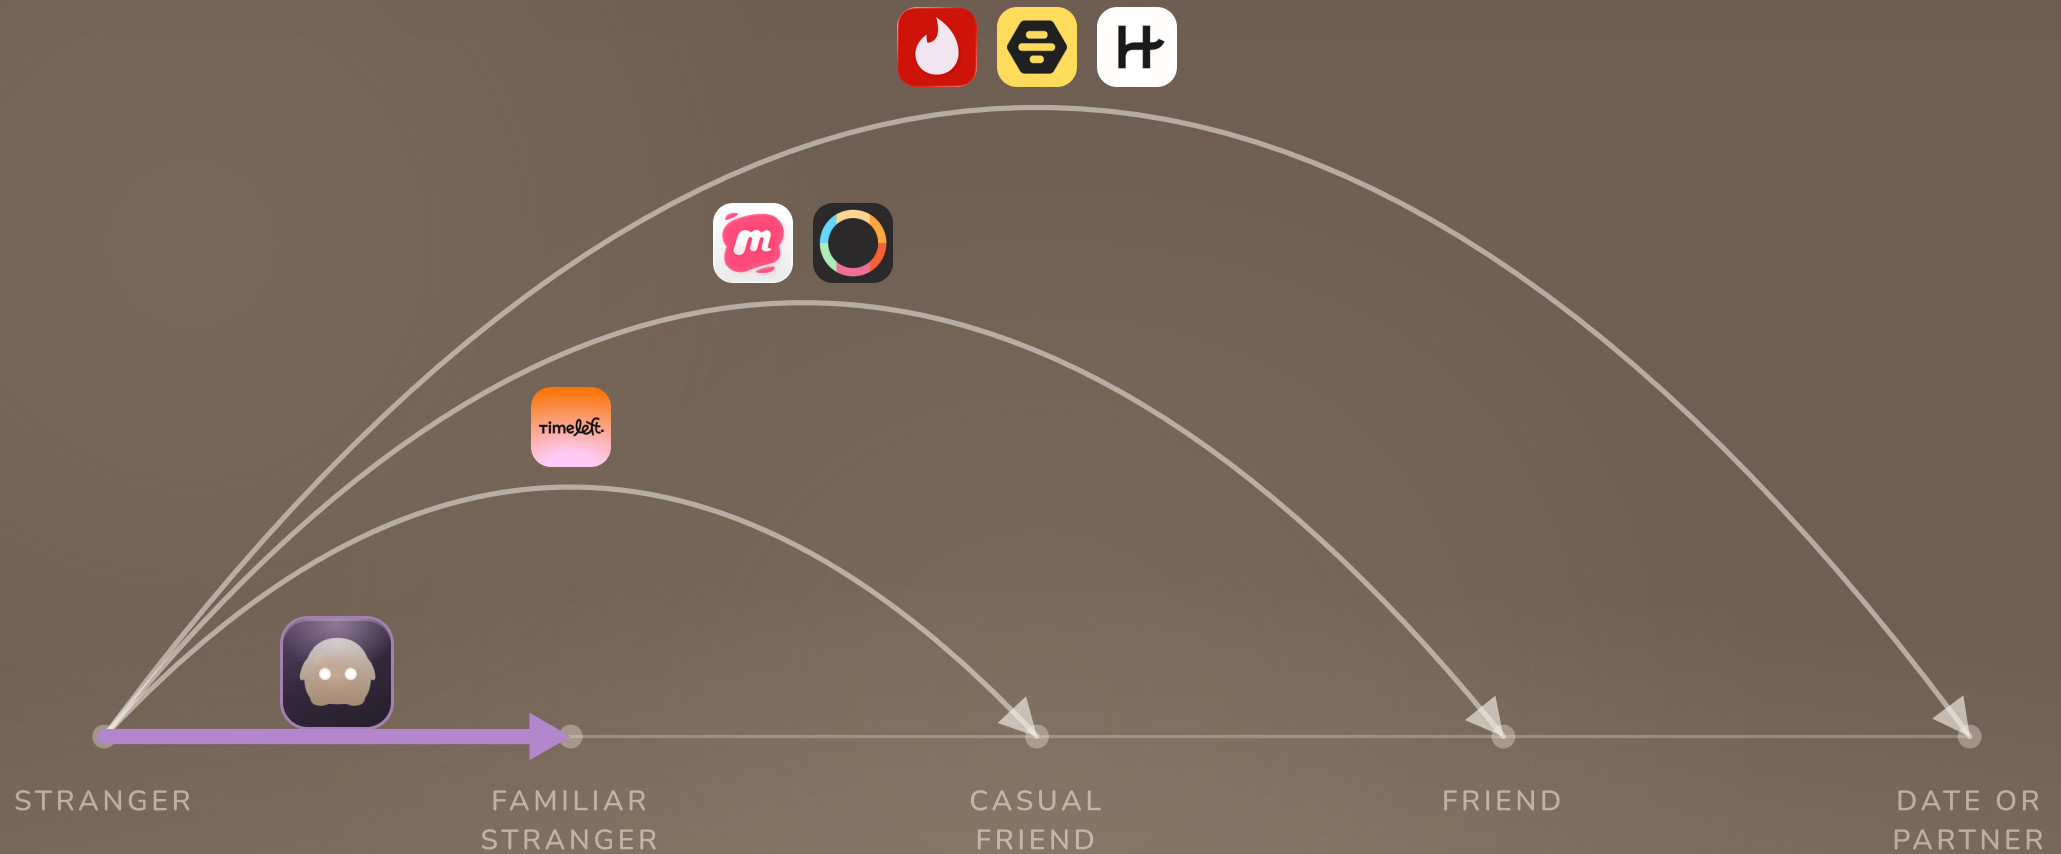

You both walk over

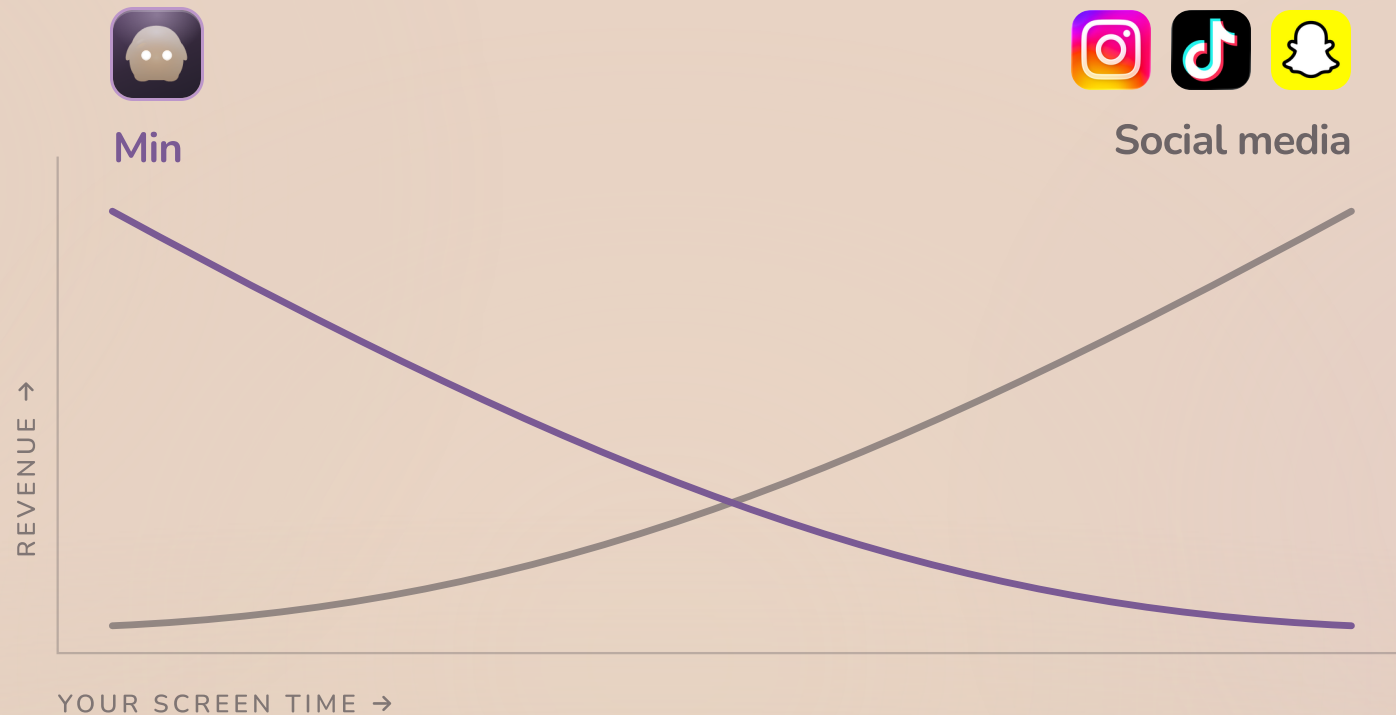

NOT A MATCHING APP

We just introduce two strangers.

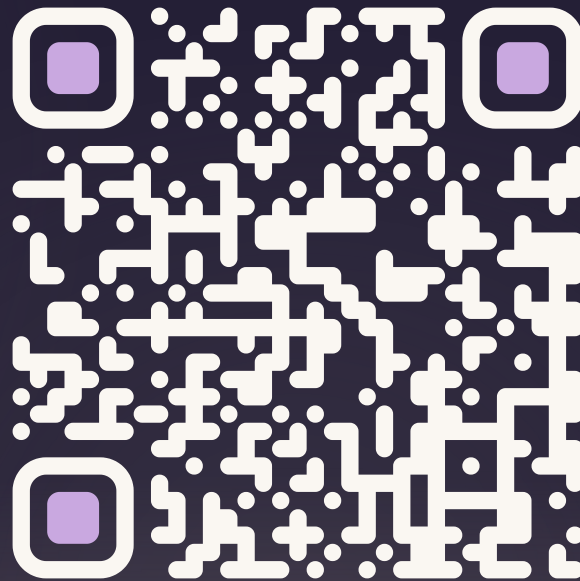

NOT SOCIAL MEDIA

Their revenue needs your attention. Ours doesn't.

min

Coming early 2027 to all Helsinki students.